

NEAR EAST CRISIS FACED TODAY

Envoy Meet at Boulogne to Confer on Situation

TURKS HALT PEACE TERMS

Italian and Balkan Affairs Seriously Menaced

BOULOGNE — (By The Associated Press.) — Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand, accompanied by Marshal Foch and Frederic Francois-Marsal, French minister of finance, arrived here Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock by special boat from Folkestone. In the party was Premier Venizelos of Greece. The arrival of the two premiers completes the delegations which will participate in the conversations here Monday and tomorrow, the Italian and Belgian representatives having arrived during the night.

M. Venizelos will participate in the sessions of the conference at which questions of Turkey and Armenia are discussed. Questions relative to reparations and Russia are expected to be the most difficult problems of the conference, and may prolong the sessions to Wednesday or Thursday. British delegates still maintain a strong attitude regarding the manner in which the allies should deal with Germany on reparations.

NEAR EAST MENACE

BOULOGNE — (By United Press.) — While the ostensible purpose of Monday's meeting of the allied supreme council was disposal of the question of a German indemnity and reparations, there was ample evidence that what would take precedence over everything else was the critical situation in the Near East, where Turkish nationalists are preventing execution of the treaty terms and seriously menacing the internal peace of Italy and the Balkan states.

INDEMNITY QUESTION

It was understood that Premier Millerand and David Lloyd George had come to agreement on the indemnity question at their conference at Hythe Sunday. As regards reduction of German armaments, men and material, the French-British premiers were expected to submit their proposals to the full meeting of the supreme council Monday.

BOARD TO CONDUCT

G. O. P. BATTLE

Campaign Committee to Be Named at Today's Parley

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press.) — Republican campaign plans began to take definite shape with the conference here of Senator Warren G. Harding and members of the sub-committee of the Republican national committee. This committee, headed by Chairman Will Hays, was named at the Chicago convention. Resides fixing the date for the official notification of Senator Harding of his selection to head the party ticket in November, the conference will discuss many of the most important features in the campaign. The session was expected to last practically all day.

Members of the sub-committee in addition to Mr. Hays are Charles D. Hilles, of New York; John W. Weeks, Massachusetts; A. T. Hottel, Kentucky; J. L. Hamon, Oklahoma; Ralph Williams, Oregon, all members of the national committee and Fred W. Upham, treasurer, and Clarence B. Miller, secretary of that body.

Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio, who managed Senator Harding's pre-convention campaign, will, at his own request, be relieved of any further burden in carrying on the campaign. It was expected that the conference is expected to name an executive committee consisting of members of the national body to take active charge of the campaign. The executive committee will consist of not more than 15 members and will include a number of women.

The nominee spent a quiet day Sunday in anticipation of a busy week. Conferences already arranged included those with former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, which probably will be held Tuesday.

INTERNAL USE OF LOVELY

PERFUME LEADS CITIZEN TO DEFY WORLD'S POLICE

VAN WERT — (Special.) — There's nothing like a shot of "Dier Kees," "Mavis" or "Garden of Allah" to make a man brave in these times of prohibition. That's the conclusion reached by the Van Wert police.

Glenn Lee, S. Shannon-st. alleged violator of the dry act, brought this fact to their attention, it is said.

All the police in the world couldn't take me to jail," Lee is alleged to have declared after imbibing whisky's fumes. He is said to have created quite a roushhouse — in fact, police declare he purchased Caesar's famous phrase, "He tasted, he drank, he got tight." Lee is awaiting trial.

FUEL FAMINE IS FACING LIMA

Water Works Has Only Enough to Run One Day

CITY NOW BORROWING COAL

Dealers Uncertain As to Advice to Be Given Consumers

Shortage of labor and heavy demands by industries are causing a lack of coal in Lima that is liable to prove serious unless alleviated at once, investigation showed Monday morning.

Reports from Lima coal dealers indicate that prices on coal range from $9 to $12 a ton at present, with agitation being started to reduce the cost.

However, the dealers say, the price is but a small matter, considering the fact the fuel is hard to obtain.

The shortage has probably been experienced more severely by the Lima Water Works than by any other plant in the city. The majority of the industries report a sufficient amount of coal on hand to run them a reasonable amount of time.

The waterworks, however, Chief Engineer George Kirk declared Monday morning, has only enough coal on hand to run a day. The plant has been operating on borrowed coal. The Ohio Electric and other plants have been turning over to the water works any amount that they can spare.

"We have had placed an order for 20 carsloads with the mines for some time," Kirk said, "but we have been notified that because of labor shortage, our order will be filled in an indefinite time."

"The state utility commission has also promised us coal, but we are still waiting for it. We're liable to be in a serious condition soon unless the Lima factories are still able to lend us more coal."

DEMAND BEYOND SUPPLY

Dealers also report that they cannot get enough to satisfy the demands. "The usual method employed by the majority of the citizens in Lima is to stock up their cellars with fuel during the summer months, but this is almost impossible this year because of the shortage which is said to be almost as acute as during the war."

"Our Mr. Wood is going to the mines this week in an effort to get some coal," Fred Hammer of the Cliff Wood coal and supply company declared this morning. "We have to pay $7.75 a ton for it at the mines and with $2.25 added for freight, we have to charge $12 a ton in order to clear anything on it. But even at that, we have practically none on hand."

Dealers are hesitant about advising fuel users as to what procedure they should follow in preparation for next winter.

CANNOT ADVISE

"We would rather not advise the people just what to do, because we don't know ourselves," E. C. McKenzie of the Fidelity coal and supply company said. "Factories seem to be getting all they want at the mines, but they let the dealers slide. It is probably because they figure we can wait."

"Prices will very probably change soon, because the government will interfere and force them to be reduced. Coal is scheduled at about $3.50 at the present. But even if the government does change the price, it will have little effect upon the supply."

The Ohio Electric, according to Mr. Randolph, is very well supplied at the present as are a few other industries. He has been loaning coal to the Lima water works.

Coal is sold to consumers for use in furnaces in very erratic, due to their inability to get enough fuel for their own use. They hardly have enough on hand to keep the plant busy, it is said.

The shortage is more acute for the home consumer and a few of the plants like the water works, than for larger industries.

GIVEN GREEK POST

Edward Capps Named as Minister by Wilson

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press.) — Edward Capps of New Jersey was named Monday by President Wilson as minister to Greece, a recess appointment.

S. Parker Gilbert Jr., was nominated as assistant secretary of the treasury.

Dr. Capps is professor of classics at Princeton University. He is a native of Illinois and has written many books on Greek literature and drama. After being graduated from Yale University he studied in Athens and Halle. Returning to this country, he became tutor in Latin at Yale and was professor of Greek language and literature at the University of Chicago, serving until he went to Princeton in 1907.

Mr. Gilbert who is named assistant secretary of the treasury, succeeds R. C. Leffingwell, resigned, in charge of fiscal offices. His home is in New Jersey and he has been in the treasury as assistant to Mr. Leffingwell since early in the war.

WASHINGTON. — The census bureau Monday announced the following 1920 population result: Van Wert, Ohio, 8,100, an increase since 1910 of 943, or 13.2 percent.

RACES CLASH, TWO SLAIN

LONDONDERRY NOW IN GRIP OF FIERCE CIVIL WAR

Many More Killed As Irish Riots Are Renewed

BUSINESS IS SUSPENDED

Shops and Schools Close and Houses Barricaded

LONDONDERRY — (By Associated Press.) — Civil war conditions prevail in Londonderry and the authorities are powerless, it is declared in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Londonderry Monday afternoon. Several additional persons were killed in Monday morning's rioting there, according to this message.

The mob Monday morning opened fire on the troops. At 1 o'clock the rioting was still in progress.

FIGHTING IS INTENSE

The firing is being maintained with desperate intensity. Business is suspended and the postmen are declining to deliver mail. When the rioting stopped the fighting in one zone, the dispatch added, living breaks out in another.

Shops and schools were closed and many houses were barricaded because of the rioting. The streets were deserted by all except those fighting or protecting vantage points. The dock workers struck, declaring they would not handle freight until peace had been restored.

SEVEN DIE IN RIOT

LONDON — (By United Press.) — Total casualties in the factional fighting at Londonderry numbered seven killed and more than 100 seriously wounded, according to reports reaching here Monday. Strong military detachments dispersed crowds assembled at Fountain-st. Sunday night.

The disorders were the culmination of a series of clashes between Sinn Feiners and Unionists which have occurred sporadically during the last few weeks. The latest manifestations of hatred were the most serious of any that have taken place in Ireland recently.

Many of the injured were given emergency treatment at hotels and private homes.

At the height of the disorders, several drunken men brought a dead man to the city hospital in a donkey cart.

The city fire department attempted to intervene, but were attacked by a body of Sinn Feiners and forced to withdraw. Several pieces of fire-fighting apparatus were dragged to the Sinn Fein quarters in Bridge-st. An armored car was later stationed at a point separating the nationalist and unionist portions of the town.

Many persons were held up in the streets early Sunday morning. In several cases, passers-by were deliberately shot down in the street. Three workmen entering a factory, were badly wounded by Sinn Feiners stationed on a house top.

The most serious trouble occurred when the two factions fought for possession of the public gardens known as "the diamond." The unionists eventually won this position.

Additional troops have been dispatched to Londonderry to reinforce the local garrison.

OHIO DEMOCRATS OFF FOR WEST

400 Leave Columbus to Boost Governor at Convention

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press.) — Four hundred Columbus Democrats including members of Columbus Democratic Club will leave here on a special train at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon for San Francisco for the party's national convention.

The party, which will include a number of Columbus school teachers, will assemble at the Democratic state headquarters an hour before train time and march to the state capitol, where the Glee club will serenade Governor Cox. The 400 persons then will march to the station.

Before the train starts a wedding will be performed at the station, the participants making the trip to San Francisco on their honeymoon.

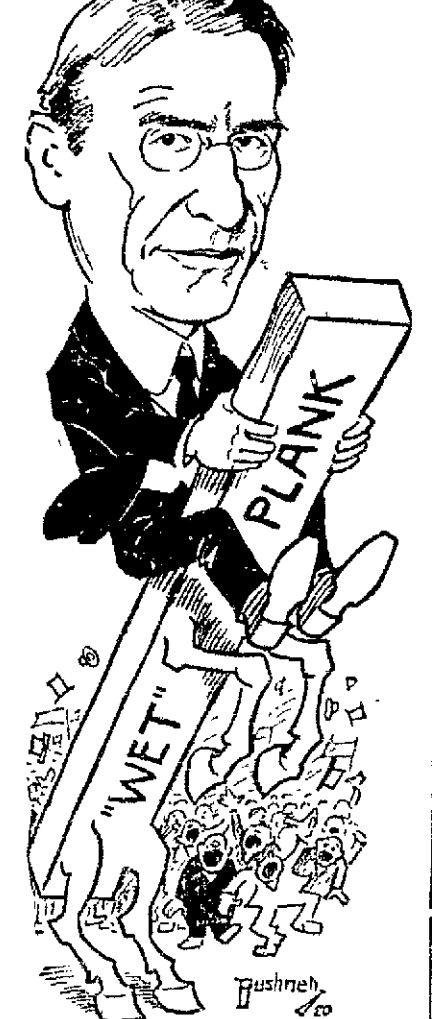

THREE SHOT DURING

WATERBURY LABOR RIOT

WATERBURY, Conn. — Three men were shot during a riot near the Scoville Manufacturing Company's plant here today. The wounded are Lieutenant Richard Lofley, of the police department; John J. Bergin, of the company's protective force, and a striker, evidently an Italian, name unknown.

The trouble began with a gathering of strikers during the noon hour. Induced, the police believe, by reports that had been current that the Scoville company was to bring in strike-breakers.

CONVENTION SKETCHES

GOV. EDWARD I. EDWARDS of New Jersey, candidate for Democratic nomination for president, hopes to ride to victory on a "wet plank."

BAINBRIDGE COLBY, secretary of state and ardent advocate of the league of nations, is said to be slated for permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention.

LEWIS HOLDS OUT RADICAL VIEWS

James Hamilton Seeks Vice Presidency on Advanced Platform

CHICAGO — Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis, aspirant for the vice-presidential nomination, outlined the stand he will take, and the policy he will seek when he left for the Democratic convention in San Francisco.

Lewis said he would ask planks providing government control of railroads, waterways, telegraph lines and oil and coal lands; a tribunal to hear high price complaints and declare fair prices and to punish violators; extension of the farm loan law to include loans for homes to people without land; "that any American in any land carries the protection of his country to his life or property, wherever located," the league of nations with amendments; "giving Ireland the fullest aid our institutions permit"; ceasing giving money abroad for business and giving supplies only to those who are hungry.

VALUE ON SON'S LIFE

TULSA, Okla. — Mrs. Belle Winninger values the life of her son, Lee Winninger, at $50,000.

In a suit filed here the other day, she asked damages to that amount for the death of her son, who died as the result of being crushed between a tractor and a trailer in Salt Creek County.

He was in the employ of the Skelly Oil Company when killed.

U. S. FLAG BURNED, RIOT FOLLOWS

Two Whites Die. Two Negroes Injured in Chicago Battle

THREE PREACHERS FLOGGED

Fight Starts From Parade Put on By Abyssinians

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press.) — Police Monday were searching for R. D. Jonas, alleged radical agitator, and three negroes in connection with rioting in Chicago's "black belt" Sunday night during which two white men were killed and two negroes were seriously injured.

The fighting followed dispersal of a parade of negro members of the "Star Order of Ethiopia," an organization said to advocate return of the negro to Abyssinia and immediately after one of the leaders of the parade had set fire to an American flag.

Police emphasized that the rioting was not the result of racial feeling but more probably the result of a radical plot. They pointed out that negroes and whites had co-operated in an effort to resist the insult to the flag. However, several incidents, including the maltreatment of three negro ministers, many blocks from the scene of the rioting, occurring later in the night, savored of race rioting.

FANTASTIC LEADERS SOUGHT

The negroes sought as leaders in the plot to burn the flag are Joseph Fernon, who is said to call himself "the great Abyssinian," his son, and Grover C. Redding, who it is said, claims to be a native of Abyssinia. The three negroes led the parade Sunday, mounted on horses and wearing fantastic raiment.

Jonas, the police declared, who was back of the movement for the return of the negroes to Abyssinia, was the principal speaker at a meeting which had for its object the launching of a boom for Mayor William Hale Thompson as a "third party" candidate for president who would rally the "solid Irish and negro vote."

The killing of the white men, who included Robert L. Rose, a sailor, stationed at Great Lakes, aroused hundreds of sailors on leave in Chicago and caused issuance of an order for the arrest and immediate dispatch to Great Lakes of all sailors found on the streets. An order barring all sailors from Chicago as a result of the trouble was being considered by Rear Admiral Bassett, commandant at the training station but thus far no action along this line has been taken.

CLERES HEAD SPLIT

The other white man killed was Joseph Hoyt, 59 years old, a clerk in a cigar store near the scene of the shooting. He was shot with what is believed to have been a dum dum bullet. His head was split as the with an axe. The negroes who were wounded included Joseph P. Owens, a policeman.

For several hours after the rioting started crowds formed in and around the outskirts of the "black belt" but 700 police, rushed to the district, succeeded with little trouble in dispersing them.

Besides the beating administered to the three negro preachers by a crowd of white men, a negro buying a ticket at the Polk-st. station down town, was seized by a crowd of 25 men and severely beaten. Four negroes in a taxi near the same station also were set upon by a crowd but escaped.

FLAG IS FIRED

According to witnesses of the burning of the flag and subsequent shooting, the parade led by the Fernons and Redding dispersed in front of a cafe at Thirty-fifth-st. and Indiana ave. The parade was to have been followed by a meeting in a hall over the cafe.

One of the leaders of the procession, believed to have been the elder Fernon, took a flag from a parcel which he was carrying and set fire to it. Spectators asserted that the flag was saturated with oil and that it burned readily.

Policeman Owens, notified of the act, rushed to the scene and toward one of the men, his club raised as tho to strike, witnesses said. One of the men on horseback, it was declared, fired at him with a short rifle, wounding him with the first shot.

TWO MEN KILLED

Rose, the sailor, who had been touring the South Side with two companions, sprang from an automobile when he saw the parade and was almost at the policeman's side when the latter was shot, according to spectators. He turned and ran into a nearby drug store. Several men with rifles, some of which it is declared were obtained from an automobile nearby, ran to the door of the cigar store and fired a volley, according to persons near the scene. Rose and Hoyt, the cigar clerk, dropped dead.

During the shooting a second flag was thrown upon the flags, but was rescued before it was burned.

Shortly after the arrival of police and dispersal of the crowds, word was sent out for the arrest of Jonas. Before the order for his arrest was issued he was seen by a newspaper man and declared that he had nothing to do with the parade. He denounced Redding as a "radical and an agitator," but when police made an effort to locate him he had disappeared, they said.

PIKE'S PEAK WILL BE HONORED

Centennial at First Ascent to Be Celebrated.

AUTO ROAD REACHES SUMMIT

Ceremonies Will be Held on July 14 This Year.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — The one-hundredth anniversary of the first ascent of Pike's Peak will be celebrated in Colorado Springs on July 14, when special exercises will be held at the summit and along the automobile highway that climbs eighteen miles over a serpentine route to the top, 14,109 feet above sea level. Although Lieutenant Zebulon M. Pike, the intrepid explorer, first discovered Pike's Peak in 1806, he never scaled the mountain, branding the task as impossible for a human being. But Dr. Frank James, a member of the expedition of Major Long, in 1820, carried the feat on July 14, 1820, making the journey from Fountain Creek, near Colorado Springs to the summit. Major Long in honor of James' accomplishment, named the peak "James' Peak," but as early as 1840 trappers and plainsmen named it "Pike's Peak," and the name remained.

Since then two million people have visited the summit, it is estimated; the crowds of tourists in the last twenty-five years forming the bulk. In 1878 a bridle path was built; a wagon road to the summit was built in 1880 and in 1891 the cog wheel railroad, nine miles long, was built. Burros were used also at that time.

In 1916 the present automobile road was built at a cost of $200,000 after two years of construction work and many difficulties, especially in securing labor. This road is eight and one-half miles long, with a maximum grade of 10 to 12 per cent, with 42 per cent of the line in curves. It is twenty feet wide with curves as wide as fifty feet.

In April, 1919, a Government tank attempted to climb the peak over the automobile highway, but could not get over the deep snow drifts; however, a month later, caterpillar, used for military work, made the ascent without difficulty. On August 2, 1919, an airplane piloted by Alexander Lendrum of Colorado Springs, made a successful trip over the summit, of the peak.

Pike's Peak is eight miles in an air line from Colorado Springs and the greater part of the mountain is controlled by the City of Colorado Springs for its watershed.

Walking races, burro races and motorcycle races have been held on the top and many noted race drivers, including Ralph Mulford, Barney Oldfield, Hugh Hughes, took part in the automobile races. In 1916 Mulford made the best time for the twelve-mile course from Crystal Creek to the summit, this being 13 minutes and 26 seconds.

In September the auto hill-climb contest which was discontinued during the war period, will be resumed as well as an automobile race around the peak from Denver.

BRIEF DOCUMENT IS SARAH L. REEL'S WILL

One of the shortest wills recorded in probate court was that of Mrs. Sarah L. Reel, late of 331 E. High-st., probated Monday. Mrs. Reel died the first week in June.

The document read as follows: "I, Sarah L. Reel, give, devise and bequeath all and singular my property both real and personal, to my husband, Henry F. Reel." It was executed November 15, 1938, and was witnessed by E. B. Hardin and J. N. Stolzenbach. The document was in Mrs. Reel's own handwriting. She named her husband as executor.

J. R. HUTCHISON, VICTIM OF BRONCHIAL PNEUMONIA

Joseph R. Hutchison, 69, S. Main-st., died early Sunday morning of bronchial pneumonia at his home, after an illness of two weeks. He was a widely known resident of the south side.

Besides the widow, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Van Horn, and a brother, Eugene, both of New Hampshire. He had retired from active business life.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Tuesday at 1 o'clock. Interment will be made in Salem cemetery near Westminster.

Soaking Rains Are Blessing to Farms and Gardens

The variety of weather furnished this section the past few days, commencing last Wednesday evening with the storm that raged over this and adjoining counties has kept Lima people wondering what will come next. Heavy spring rains and suits which were put away a few weeks ago with the advent of extreme warm weather were hauled out Friday and Saturday and put into good use. Sunday rain was a blessing according to the farmers as it was just deep enough to do the growing crops a great amount of good, and now with the warm sunshine they ought to flourish. It is also of benefit to those who wished to do late planting, as the vegetables will have just as good a chance to grow now as those planted earlier in the season.

Weather predictions for Monday night were: Partly cloudy in this section, with probable showers and mild temperature.

EMBARGO ON EAST BOUND FREIGHT

Renewal of "Outlaw" Strike is the Cause Assigned

SHIPMENTS HANDICAPPED

Export Goods May be Detoured Via Lehigh Valley

Embargoes were ordered Monday morning on all shipping to eastern points, out of Lima, according to reports from the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio freight offices of this city.

The action came in form of executive orders from the eastern offices of the road and carried no explanation. News dispatches, however, received this morning by the Lima News and Times Democrat offered an explanation in the form of reports that out-of-law railroad workers were striking in the east.

TOO MANY LAWS SAYS HUGHES

Mass of Legislation no Sign of Democratic Progress

OFFICIAL TYRANNY POSSIBLE

Cunning and Avaricious Given An Opportunity

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — (By Associated Press) — Charles E. Hughes, speaking at the centenary of Harvard Law School here Monday declared that "in the art of governing ourselves we not only fall short of what we should expect in a few people, but frequently present a sorry spectacle."

His subject was "Some Observations on Legal Education and Democratic Progress."

"A passion for legislation is not a sign of democratic progress," he said, "and in the mass of measures introduced in the legislatures of our free commonwealths, there is too little evidence of perspective and an abundance of elaborate and dreary trifles. Occasionally a constructive measure of great benefit is skillfully planned, but we are constantly impressed with the lost motion and the vast waste in the endeavor of democracy to function wisely."

LAWS UNCERTAIN

"The real trouble thing," Mr. Hughes continued, "is that the tendency to enact uncertain laws seems to be increasing, and what is still worse, the people tolerate it and there are but faint demands for improvement. Our material progress seems to have created complexities beyond our political competence and, disregarding the lessons of history, there has been a disposition to revert to the methods of tyranny in order to meet the problems of democracy."

He went on to say that the war powers, which are essential to the preservation of the nation in time of war, exercised broadly after the military exigency had passed and in conditions for which they were never intended, and we may well wonder in view of the precedent now established whether constitutional government can hereafter maintain in this republic the survival of another great war even victoriously waged."

LIBERTY DISREGARDED

"Apart from these conditions, we cannot afford to ignore the indications that perhaps to an extent unparalleled in our history, essentials of liberty are being disregarded. Very recently information has been laid by responsible citizens at the bar of public opinion of violations of personal rights which savor of the worst practices of tyranny. And in the conduct of trials before the courts we find a growing tendency on the part of the prosecutors to resort to grossly unfair practices."

Mr. Hughes declared that "if administrative action is followed by legislative action, departmental action is controlled by the constant review of all administrative action by the courts, and the courts of justice primarily adapted to other needs, the opportunity for impeding litigation will leave vast activities to the mercy of the cunning, selfish and avaricious, and the means designed for protection will defeat their own purpose. On the other hand, present methods are obviously crude and tend to an intolerable personal government."

JUVENILE SENATE IS CALLED

Thrill Stamp Sales Will Determine Members

COLUMBUS, Ohio. — The senatorial seats in the Ohio State Capitol at Columbus will have new occupants next fall, as a result of two days of election on October 22 and 23. The new occupants of the senatorial seats may not measure up to the description "grave and reverend senators," but their deliberations will be of equal importance to the future welfare of the state as the they were burdened with years and gray hairs.

On October 22, eighty-eight children, one senator from each Ohio county will meet in the senate chamber in the first Thrift Congress ever held in the United States.

Each senator will represent the children of his or her county in devising ways and means to bring forcibly before the people of Ohio the need of thrift, saving and safe investment in government securities.

In common with the remainder of the American people, the school children of Ohio are now in the midst of an active election campaign, which closely follows the lines of the national election methods. The method of selecting the Thrift Senators is as follows:

The pupils in each school in every county are called together in open session and the purpose and meaning of the Thrift Congress explained to them by the principal and teachers. Thereafter the participation of the school authorities ceases and the pupils themselves by popular vote select a candidate to represent the school.

It is the duty of this candidate to organize the school for the sale of Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates. The candidate of the school selling the largest number of these securities per pupil enrolled before October 1 will be elected senator from that county.

ALLEN-CO WILL DRAW $8,600 CIGARET TAX

Allen-co will benefit to the extent of $8,600 as a result of the cigarette tax. Eighty-three dealers in Allen-co have taken out licenses. Of that number, 45 are in Lima.

Three wholesale dealers, the Moore Bros. company, the J. M. Sealts company and the Lima Cigar and Tobacco company, all of Lima took out wholesale dealers' licenses. Each paid $200 revenue into the county treasury.

Each retail dealer pays $50 to his license, under the provisions of the new law. Eight retail dealers in Bluffton took out licenses, two in Beaverdam, two in West Cahi, seventeen in Delphos, five in Sycerville, two in Elida, one in La Fayette and one in Harrod.

The time for taking out licenses expired Saturday.

BOULEVARD PLAN UP TO COUNCIL

Legislation to Be Submitted At Monday Night Meeting

SOME OBJECTIONS FILED

Ottawa River Improvement Bonds Also an Issue

City Solicitor H. E. Garling announced Monday legislation for the issuance of a $180,000 general taxation bond issue for a boulevard lighting system for Lima ordered at the last meeting of the city council was being prepared and would be ready for the council at its meeting Monday night. This legislation was put off until the last day according to Garling, with the idea that some changes might be made, but he said Monday the legislation was being prepared as originally planned.

Despite the fact that the issuance of such bonds will, according to City Auditor Rupert, result in an annual average deficit of $10,000 in the operating expenses of the city, for the next 20 years, the measure apparently stands excellent chances of passing.

THREE OPINIONS

Both Councilmen Reed and Tavin have expressed themselves as in favor of putting the thing thru and giving Lima a lighting system, and the issuance of general taxation bonds was apparently the only way in which it could be assured. Councilman Eli Jones said there had been nothing to change his views expressed at the last council meeting when he voted to instruct the city solicitor to prepare the necessary legislation for the bond issue.

"Lima certainly needs a lighting system," he said, "and if it's a good thing, let's put it thru."

Mayor Burkhardt said Monday he had received inquiries from outside citizens seeking information as to the plans. The general opinion, according to the mayor, is that the installation of such a system as that proposed by Councilman Reed will inflict boulevard lighting on those who do not want it and would not vote for it, and at the same time neglect other parts of the city which are of more importance. "The Dixie Highway," he said, "is a main national thoroughfare thru the city would be barely touched, according to the present plans."

RIVER BONDS AN ISSUE

The question of placing before the voters the issuance of a bond issue for river improvement will come before the council Monday night, according to the mayor. In a letter to councilmen, the mayor also made a recommendation that a bond issue of $150,000 be voted upon. This amount, however, may be revised by the city engineer after making estimates, on the work. The construction of retaining walls at the most essential points deepening the channel thru the city were recommended. This is one of the projects which the mayor considers more urgent than a boulevard lighting system, inasmuch as the health of the entire city is menaced by the condition existing at present.

BABY BORN IN "FLIVVER" OUTSIDE HOSPITAL DOORS

NEW YORK — Patrick Mahoney, a policeman of the Boiler Squad, who lives in Nottawa-st, Jamaica, is considering whether or not to name his youngest son Henry Ford Mahoney. The child was born in a flivver outside Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica, where a room had been engaged.

Dr. Joseph Musante, of the house staff, hurried out and discovered it would be impossible to move Mrs. Mahoney. "Big Bill" Wegebauer, head ambulance chauffeur, who has a wife and children of his own, was called, and by striking one match after another he furnished enough light for Dr. Musante. The child and his mother are resting comfortably.

TOLEDO. — Burial of the dead in Horace cemetery was temporarily interrupted Monday when 12 grave diggers struck for more money. They have been getting $4.50 for an eight-hour day. A wage increase has been pending.

WILSON WON'T BE IN RACE

Health Will Not Permit, Says Treasury Official

KANSAS CITY — President Wilson's health makes it out of the question that he will attempt to make a race for a third, Jouett Shouse, assistant secretary of the treasury, declared here Monday. Shouse said that he believed the nomination of President Wilson by the Democrats an impossibility because of this condition.

"There isn't the slightest collusion between the statement of President Wilson last Friday morning and the withdrawal of McAdoo that afternoon," Shouse said, in denying reports that the two developments were timed in the interests of a third term campaign for Wilson. Shouse conferred with leaders here Monday to prevent McAdoo's name being presented to the convention.

TOLEDO FIRM BUYS BONDS

W. L. Slayton and company of Toledo made the only bid on $101,000 worth of paying refunding bonds issued by the city, according to City Auditor David L. Rupert, when bids were opened at noon Monday. They offered to pay for the bonds, requiring the city to pay all brokerage fees. This virtually places the bonds on a 6 1/4 percent basis, according to Rupert.

COUNTESS PLEADS FOR BREAD

Many Starve With Costly Furs As Only Garb

BELGRADE, Serbia.—Nearly half the former Russian Imperial Court have reached Serbia's capital with the crowds of refugees now flowing into the country from Salonica, where they have been shipped by American Red Cross relief transports. Roughly, 500 of Russia's higher nobility are here, Grand Dukes and Duchesses, Princes and Princesses, Counts, Barons and their families, garbed in the soiled and tattered remnants of their past splendor, ragged, hungry, destitute and forlorn, rub elbows with common mortals as they walk the streets of Belgrade, a hapless pageant of misery. They are the living semblances of the beggars in the old nursery rhyme, "some in rags, some in tags, and some in velvet gowns."

HERE'S GOOD PLAY THRU AND THRU

"The Butterfly Man" Declared Best Lew Cody Picture

SHOULD INTEREST EVERYONE

French Play is Offered—Other News of Theaters

By ESTHER WAGNER

YOU HAVE asked for good pictures. Here is an opportunity to see one that in photography, direction and settings, is superb. It is "The Butterfly Man," which stars Lew Cody and which is by far the best picture he has made so far.

The role he plays is rather unusual. We've heard of butterflies, tempests, speaking, who flit from one man to another, but in this case it's the man who is lured by every pretty flower—but satisfied by none. Young debutantes and elderly matrons come in for their share of his attentions while the men look on and swear silently. One girl, however, has consented to elope with the handsome hero, and arranges everything, but father steps in at this point and spoils everything. You didn't want her to marry him, of course, but your heart just aches for him as he whisks his gallant back towards you and starts down the sunset trail alone.

Beautiful scenes are plentiful in the production, prominent among them are the Rose Cotillion and the swimming scenes. The women in the cast were well chosen, mostly novices and include Lucille Lovely and Lila Leslie.

One thing—there's not one moment of bad acting in the picture, so you know it's interesting to the finish. It's at the Regent.

THE PICTURE at the Orpheum will appeal to just that number of you who cling to a penchant for French plays. The title of the production is "The Strongest," and stars Bill Renée Adoree. It is rather a tragic play all the way thru and does not get interesting until about the third reel which is where the star appears. The story relates the life of a French manufacturer and his wife unhappily married. A friend of the gentleman Henri, visits their home and falls in love with her. Later she dies and leaves behind a baby daughter. The girl is brought up in a convent, but you see, the father had wanted a son and he did no earthly use for a more daughter.

There is a dashing young American in the cast who saves it from being a French play. He falls in love with the beautiful daughter but has a son who is trying to remove her from the scene. At about the third reel a startling disclosure is made which changes everything and the American marries her after all. The tale of the new is interesting and the costumes and decorations down to the most minute, are of their kind.

REPORT—Douglas MacLean and Doris May center in "Mavis Ankles," at the Regent today.

LYRIC—The Garter Girl at the Lyric. Corinne Griffith.

MAJESTIC—Lew Cody has the leading role in "The Beloved Cheater," at the Majestic.

RIALTO—Charles Ray heads the cast in "The Pinch Hitter," at the Rialto today.

MAJOR LEAGUES APPROACH NORMAL-ONE THIRD OF SEASON OVER

AMERICAN SCRAP ONLY A DUAL AFFAIR WHILE NATIONAL FLAG READY FOR MOST ANY HIGH BIDDER—RAIN SPOILS LIMA DOUBLEHEADER

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK. — After a stormy period of insurrections, revolutions and assorted disorders, the major leagues are approaching normal conditions as the eight big-time clubs pull up at the one-third mark.

Last week was the most stable of the season. The return of Big Vaughn to the Cubs caused the only change in the front of third place.

Otherwise, it was a quiet week. The American League remained stationary with the Indians, the Yanks, the White Sox and the Red Sox, among the select folks and the steering passengers of the National League stayed put.

The Reds held the lead by winning three out of four games and Robins won only one out of four, remained second place only by the kindness of the steaming Cards, who dropped three out of seven games.

The Cubs won three games and made them good for a rise. This Speaker kept his Indians in front by winning three out of five games and the Yanks kept right at their heels with four wins out of seven starts. The Browns made a clean sweep of the week but couldn't make the elevator work.

With one-third of the season about gone, the American League seems more inclined to settle down than the older circuit.

There seems to be a duel between Cleveland and the Yanks in the American, but any club in the National League has a chance to jump into a winning streak and climb to the top.

The leading Reds and the trailing Phils are separated by only 173 points while in the American League, the Indians have a lead of 379, points over the cellar-holding Athletics.

Both leagues are using the stick with good effect, but the epidemic of slugging, which marked the early season, has been stopped.

AMERICAN LEAGUE HITTERS LEAD

Looks like the American League swatsmen have got it all over the hitters who play with the National League teams—or is it just the opposite and have the National League teams better pitchers than the older league can boast of?

Whichever it may be, there is a decided difference in the batting percentages attained by the American League stars and those of the National League.

Sisler heads all American League swatsmen with an average of .408, or better than any other man in either of the two big organizations. In the National, Hornsby of St. Louis, leads with his figure standing at .382.

So it stands all the way down the list. The first ten hitters in the older league register over .350 to date while in the National the tenth man rates no better than .309. The percentage columns of this year show an unprecedented amount of hitting. It is especially noticeable in the American league where the games have deteriorated into veritable slugfests. Babe Ruth today is almost as valuable to his team when it comes to winning games as he is to the magnates who own the Yanks. Ruth can most always be counted on for a long hit, usually a home run, or at least a three bagger. It's not that he gets them so often, but so regular, the counts.

The National league has no such star slugger. Can it be that superior pitching in this league has hindered the development of such a player?

AIN'T GONNA BE NO BIG BOUT

BY JACK KEENE

Into the ash can with all talk of a probable battle between Jack Dempsey, holder of the world's heavyweight title by virtue of his defeat of Jess Willard, and Georges Carpentier, European king.

The whole business is a joke.

Eleven months ago—right after Dempsey's great victory over the giant, talk started about a match for the real world's championship between Dempsey and the Frenchman. All that was needed, according to the managers of both men, was a promoter who would stage the bout.

The wires were cluttered for weeks with offers from a million lights and litter lights. The public interest was kept at a high pitch while the amounts offered soared from a few thousand to half a million bucks.

Then there was a hitch. Carpentier wanted to fight in Europe. Dempsey held out for a battle in this country.

Then Carpentier announced he was coming to this country to meet the lion in his own little den. Fine stuff. Public interest hit on high again.

Someday—I'm about convinced it was the work of rival fight-managers—started the slacker agitation against Dempsey. All prospects of the match were knocked in the head by the action of a San Francisco jury in indicting Dempsey and his manager on slacker and conspiracy charges.

Carpentier hung around though—asserting that he was waiting for the legal bout to end so that he would meet Dempsey.

Dempsey, while starring in the movies as he waited to go on the dock—announced that he was keeping in perfect trim and could fight in a couple of weeks after his case was ended.

Carpentier also collecting a fat wad in the movies—said he hoped the case would be ended soon, as he was chaffing at the bit.

And then, just the other day, the jury acquitted Dempsey, leaving him free to defend his title without the odium of slacker attached to his name.

And the very next day came the announcement that Carpentier would

DOUBLEHEADER STOPPED BY RAIN

Two teams invaded Lima territory Sunday. Two teams laid claims to superiority over the Independents baseball team.

But two teams didn't even get a chance to see the Independents in uniform. They had to travel all the way back to their home towns, content with a promise of a game later in the season.

Old Jupiter Pluvius was the reason. He seems to have it in for the Independents for some reason or other. He just won't let a single Sunday go by without at least a threat of shedding a few tears.

Yesterday he interfered with a crackerjack of a double header scheduled by the Independents. The Chicago Keystones and the Celina baseball team had been booked by Bernie Holloran, but the jinx was with the Lima team, and they didn't get to play.

It's costing Bernie Holloran heavy jack these rainy Sundays. But he's determined to give Lima fans Sunday baseball at any cost, and he's already arranging to make up for this Sunday's loss.

Just what will be the bill for this coming week end hasn't been decided upon by the manager of the Lima aggregation as yet. He may lay off double header plans for this coming day of baseball in an effort to be sure that a game will be played.

Maybe old Jupiter Pluvius will be much kinder if only one is scheduled.

Then again, a Sunday of two games lost may make it necessary to have two games at the next opportunity in order to catch up with the season.

Whatever does happen, Bernie Holloran is anxious to get baseball back on its feet again in this city, he declares.

And the very next day came the announcement that Carpentier would

MICHIGAN STAR LIKELY OLYMPIC TEAM MEMBER

CARL JOHNSON

NEW YORK. — Carl Johnson, Michigan University's wonderful athletic "ace," is one college star, who appears certain to win a place on the American Olympic team.

Johnson's ability in the broad and high jumps and the high and low hurdles makes him a most valuable man, and as he is practically recovered from an injury that kept him out of the recent Western Conference meet, with the exception of the running broad jump, it is practically sure that he will be at his best for the Olympic trials at Chicago June 26 and the final trials at Cambridge July 17.

In the recent conference meet Coach Farrell, of Michigan, sent Johnson into the broad jump, but kept him out of the high jump and the hurdles. Farrell instructed his star to take one good jump and let it go at that. This Johnson did and won the event easily with a leap of 23 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Farrell, of course, feared that should Johnson exert himself at this early stage following his recovery he might ruin his chances for the Olympic team. It was only a year ago that Johnson took first in the broad and high jumps and the high and low hurdles in the conference games, scoring 20 points for Michigan.

Coach Farrell believes, and with good reason, that Johnson will be able to beat the world's best broad jumpers at Antwerp and is sending him along by easy stages, preparing for the Olympic trials. It will not be surprising should Johnson succeed in establishing a new record to replace the present mark of 24 feet 11 3/4 inches, credited to Peter O'Connor, the Irish jumper.

The Johnson is a hurdler of wonderful ability over both the high and low sticks his jumping ability is his forte and in the long jump there is no telling what he may accomplish if he concentrates on this event. It is said that Johnson jumped over 25 feet in practice last Spring. Previously Johnson did not specialize in broad jumping, merely competing in this event to pile up points for his alma mater.

Johnson's career in athletics has been somewhat similar to that of A. L. Gutterson, of Vermont University, who won the running broad jump for the United States in the Olympic Games at Stockholm eight years ago with a leap of 24 feet 11 3/4 inches, failing to equal the world's record by 3/8 of an inch.

In those days Gutterson was practically the whole team at Vermont, and when his college engaged in track meets he used to start in anywhere from four to six events, seldom failing to check up at least 20 points. After his graduation in 1912 Gutterson concentrated on the broad jump, with the result that he often jumped better than 24 feet and wound up his brilliant career with his great performance at Stockholm.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED AND EARNED

JANE PHELPS
ROBERT AGREES

"You want to do this, Gerry?" Robert had studied the card, varying emotions chasing each other across his face. They were as easily read as if he had spoken. First, disappointment, then a sort of resignation, followed by a look that said "perhaps it would work out."

"Yes, Robert. You see, dear, I have too much time. I may get into mischief. I have heard somewhere that a man named Satan got busy with idle people. I would not be so serious about it. Perhaps if I made light of things in some way, Robert would more quickly see just how feasible my plan was."

"You have the housework?"

"It only takes me a couple of hours. Plenty of time left for Mr. Satan."

"But won't you overdo and get sick if you attempt this, in addition to all you are doing?"

"No, Robert. I promise I won't overdo. I also promise that neither the house nor my work with you at the store will be neglected. You see, I shall take no time excepting in those hours I am mentioned. I love my business, Robert. I always have. I shall charge good prices — if I get the customers. I can get the prices — and it will help us buy a home like Mary and Gardner have."

"All right, dear. I'm not really convinced that it will work, but go ahead and give it a trial."

"I saw he was still doubtful, as he had said, so for an hour we discussed it. I talked as I had to the girls. I told him that because I was a good business woman I had been able to systematize my housework from the beginning, had been able to use common sense in my marketing and cooking, and that it had also left me too much time."

"They used to say at the store that I ate work," I laughingly told him.

"You were often very tired."

"Yes, but this will be very different. I shall be out a good deal, going from one place to another."

Even if they want me to bring the work home, I shall have to go after it and deliver it when finished."

"That part will be good for you, but—"

"You fear if I bring work home I will let it interfere with—us—our good times together?" I had read his thoughts again. "It won't. I shall observe those hours, absolutely, 11 until 4, whether I work at home or out."

"If you will stick to that I can see no objection to your plan. I want you to be happy and contented, Gerry. But I want my home and my wife, too. You have shown me that my dream could come true, my dream of a home with you in it. And—"

"You shall always have a home, and I shall be in it—unless you put me out." We were getting too serious again. "How do you like my cards?"

"Bully — I don't know that you will agree, but I rather like Carson's expression better. 'A Traveling Artist in Hata.' Seems to be more euphonious than 'A Traveling Artist in Smart Chapeaus.' But you know best."

"I believe you are right, Robert. It is shorter too. I had a sort of an idea the other might carry the idea that I was expert, but I don't know. The shorter line looks better on the card." I had reached over and printed the shorter line on the back of the card "See." I passed it back.

"It does look better. Try it, and if it doesn't work, it is easily changed. That poke bonnet is great. You should have been an artist, Gerry. You are very clever with a brush."

"I am an artist. An artist in his own way."

"So it was settled. Robert, I knew, still had misgivings. It was up to me to show him he had no necessity to fear. I never would let my work make him unhappy, or in any way come between us—as it surely had been when I was in the shop."

LOVE AND MARRIED LIFE

By IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON

JOHN IS ANGRY

"So Alice knew about Elizabeth," I said to myself with a smile and then my heart hurt just a little that even my baby's name had been talked over between my husband and Elizabeth Moreland.

It wasn't the same. It just wasn't the same—this love of Elizabeth's for John and Karl Sheppard's for me. I almost made up my mind to show Karl's letters to John. In fact I went and got them as I heard John's footsteps in the hall and was on the point of handing them to him when his first words made me place them back in my pocket.

"Just had a telegram from Elizabeth, Katherine. And she tells me that she has gone to live with mother already. Said that as long as she was going to go there pretty soon she might as well go immediately, and especially as our rooms were vacant now and they are more comfortable than her own."

"Oh, John, I wish that Elizabeth would not go into our rooms," I said.

"Why, what's the difference? She isn't going to break up the furniture."

"No, but you must remember that all my clothes except the few I took to Atlantic City, are still in the wardrobe and drawers. Honestly, I would not even care to have Alice go into those rooms without being there myself. I continued, trying to be very calm as I did not want to quarrel with him.

"You women are the funniest things I have ever seen. I am quite sure that Elizabeth won't hurt you."

"That you have. I don't think she would be interested in them."

"Oh won't she?" I said thoughtfully. "She will probably look over every piece of underclothing I left in my drawers and I expect to find the lock of my desk broken when I get back."

"Are you judging Elizabeth Moreland by yourself?"

"I am judging her by herself as I know her, and I do not want her or any other person in my rooms, among my intimate belongings until I can be there to make the arrangements of moving."

"You are altogether too late. She is already there."

"You know as well as I do, John, that Elizabeth Moreland has done this thing purposely. She wanted to get into my rooms."

"It can't be helped now, so why worry? I don't know why it is Katherine, that you and I can't be together five minutes without quarreling. I have just come back from Goodwin happy over the fact that he was so delighted that I asked him to invest Mary Elizabeth's money."

"John, I want you to understand that my daughter's name is not Mary Elizabeth. Her name is Mary Gordon. You know very well that I do not object so much to the name because it is your mother's, although I would not care to have her called Elizabeth even if it were not the name of Elizabeth Moreland."

"Well, wait a minute, wait a minute. Don't go off halled. All right if you don't want it. But you seem to think that I have no part in this child."

"I sometimes wish that you hadn't," I spoke quickly before I thought.

"And whom, may I ask, would you like to be the father of your child, Mrs. Gordon?"

"I am not sure," I said, bursting into tears. "that I want any man to be the father of my child. If I could be like Juro and have fatherless children it would be a great joy to me."

"Are you pulling some of that Ruth Gaylord stuff? What do you mean?"

"Why Ruth seemed to think that her children were all her own and Bobby got tired of that pose as you know, and married Helen."

"A woman can't neglect a man even for her children. Keep that in your mind, my dear girl. Don't you think that you have left me alone quite long enough? If it hadn't been for Elizabeth Moreland I don't know what I should have done. She has been very unselfish about it. Of course she could have had lots of other men, more than eligible, calling on her, but she has kept most of her evenings free for me, not knowing whether I would be able to call or not."

"Oh! Could she?" was my comment.

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS
PLANNING A LARK WITH CECIL

Cecil and I then had a serious talk on the subject of trial marriages. Of course I'm rather hazy on the subject. For various reasons a maiden is at a disadvantage on certain subjects. However I have very definite beliefs and ideals, and these help some.

Cecil believes that eventually we will have a different system entirely where the sex relations are concerned. He is not quite sure just how things are going to work out but civilization is on the way to some startling revolution in its marriage system. Matrimony, as it was founded so long ago that it has outlived its usefulness, it needs re-arranging, just as any other laws do, even now and then. Times, tastes and peoples change. Conditions, with them, and all this makes for change.

It is a little enough to realize that two people are taking an awful chance on true happiness when they can marry after meeting each other twice, or possibly three times; whereas, a trial marriage for these same people of a few months would either kill or cure them. When I think of the marriages that were rushed into by young people during the war I lose all respect for matrimony. And the results have been so overwhelming! disastrous that it is making matrimony popular in the minds of the very people who have always had an antipathy for such. I know some couples who hate each other. Got married in haste in 1918 and 1917. I feel sorry for them but it makes me feel that there is something wrong with our entire civilization—somehow Cecil went into the subject in a most scientific way. I am sure that he knows just what he is talking about, so I listened with all my wits about me. That boy has read a lot, and thought more, so he is splendid at an argument. He put me straight on several things that had been worrying me for some time, and his dark eyes reminded me of Harry. Once or twice as he was talking and looking at me I felt the flame sweep into my cheeks and my heart thump a bit.

At the end of our lunch Cecil suddenly said "Let's finish this day together, Lindsey—go out into the country—somewhere—anywhere. I've never had you to myself for a day as long as I've known you, and may never again. Come on out with me. I'll take good care of you, little girl."

I was sorely tempted and I felt. The day was still hot, and the thought of a green spot in the country was alluring. It was far too hot to attempt to work much, so I accepted Cecil's invitation.

We decided to hire a car, and drive out through Connetquot as far as we liked, and in the cool of the evening have dinner at some quaint little inn. Yes, the picture was alluring to us both, and after we had decided on the trip, we hung over some delicious black coffee and some of the best Russian cigarettes imaginable.

Cecil told me about his stupid trip to Boston, and of having decided to accept a position out there for a while, before going out west. So he will leave New York about the same time as we sail for Europe if seems.

Before leaving I called up the house, but as no one was in but Nanny I left word with her that I would not be in for dinner, so not to wait for me.

"Jack just called you up, Lindsey," said Nanny in her confidential tones. I explained to her that they could not be helped, but that if he called again to tell him that I would communicate with him in the morning, first thing.

"Oh, and Mrs. Edmonds called up and asked you to come there for dinner this evening" went on that most irritating child. Here I hung up the receiver.

NEW YORK — The deficit in actual loans and discounts reported by the clearing house banks last Saturday and latest developments in the European situation furnished a pretext for a moderate selling movement at the opening of Monday stock market. Pressure was most evident in several of the recent favorites, especially Barrett, Studebaker and Crucible, which yielded 1 to 1 1/2 points. The new features of growth comprised Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Standard and Famous, which gained 1/2 to 1 point. Firmness was shown in the preliminary quotations for exchange on London, although reports of a gold movement from that center still lacked confirmation.

Dealings during the morning were somewhat in excess of the recent average but this was partly at the expense of quoted values. Resumption of the railroad strike in the Philadelphia-Baltimore district drew leveled attention to the unfavorable transportation aspect of Chicago. Shares of the roads most affected by this unexpected situation were materially changed, however. Lackawanna extended its rise to 1 1/2 points, making a total of 20 since last Friday. Shipplings, textiles and sugars were 1 to 2 points higher but steels and oils reacted. The adverse bank statement caused no fluctuation in call money rates, which opened at clearing bank rates. The deficit in clearing house reserves, lighter money and renewal of labor troubles combined to dampen bullish enthusiasm in the stock market today. Sales approximated 500,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

NEW YORK SUN REVIEW

NEW YORK — The New York Evening Sun Review Monday said: The week opened with trading in securities of a character unchanged from last week, and of scarcely greater animation. The under-tone of the stock list from the beginning was firm and substantial strength developed in various groups and individual issues as the sugars, shipping, U. S. Alcohol, some of the equipments, Transcontinental Oil, Stromberg Carburator, and so on. The rails were dull performers without much change. There was nothing at all to attract or hold interest in the last phase of the session.

The Lacombe report says that sand strata bearing traces of oil has been reached at an encouragingly short distance from the surface.

ILLEGITIMATE DAUGHTER

WINS $200,000 ESTATE

FARGO, N. D. — Mrs. Reila O'Brien has established herself as sole heir to the estate of John C. McWilliams, a Grand Forks County farmer. By the provisions of the Tennessee law abolishing illegitimacy, Mrs. O'Brien receives an estate valued at $200,000 claimed also by brothers and sisters of McWilliams. Judge A. T. Cole, of the North Dakota District Court, held that Mrs. O'Brien was the daughter of McWilliams, the born out of wedlock forty years ago and was entitled to his estate.

INSECTS DESTROY MILLION

FEET OF OREGON TIMBER

EUGENE, Ore. — Approximately one million feet of timber in the Siuslaw National Forest in the vicinity of Yachats and Cape Creek, on the coast was destroyed by insects during the year 1919, according to a special report filed in the Siuslaw forest office here. The investigation was made by one of the rangers who found that the ravages of the insects the nature of which he was unable to determine, covered a strip of forest about a quarter of a mile wide and fifty acres in extent.

PHOTOS BY WIRELESS TO BE ATTEMPTED NEXT

BERLIN — Transmission of photographs by wireless telegraphy will soon be attempted between the Copenhagen newspaper Politiken and England and later between England and some ship traveling through America.

The method invented by Professor Arthur Korn will be utilized. Korn, long associated with the Technical high school of Charlottenburg, has devoted a large part of his scientific career to perfection of the scientific transmission of photographs. He succeeded with his scheme in 1907 in sending pictures by telegraph between Munich and Berlin, between Berlin and Paris, and between Paris and London.

During the war, he perfected his system insofar that ocean cables could be perfectly used, and now he is hopeful that he can accomplish the same feat by wireless transmission.

CHICAGO. — Fresh strength

developed in the corn market Monday owing chiefly to the fact that receipts did not total as much as had been looked for. Opening prices, which ranged from 1-3 to 3-4c lower, with July $1.80 3-4 to 1.80 7-8, and September $1.70 3-4 to 1.71 1-8 were followed by a sharp rise to well above Saturday's finish and then by a moderate reaction.

Oats paralleled the action of corn. After opening unchanged to 5-8c lower, in closed September a 58 3-8 to 58 5-8, the market scored a quick general upturn and later reacted somewhat.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened provisions.

20 YEARS LEFT TO GET YOUR TICKETS

LONDON — Two babies, each about three months old, have been matched to play lawn tennis in 1940.

They are the infant sons of J. G. Parke, the famous British tennis player, and A. H. Gobert, who wields a rigorous racket in France.

The match was arranged by the proud fathers during a recent visit of Parke to Paris. The children, it is understood, have gurgled their consent and have already gone into training for the contest. A liberal diet is said to be favored by both.

Neither can yet include the word "tennis" in its vocabulary, the one has made valiant efforts to get out the first syllable, generally getting as far as "De, de, de." It is hoped that when he cuts his first tooth, his diction will improve and the "d" be replaced by a "t," until eventually he has mastered the whole word and knows what he's talking about.

"What are you doing in the kitchen, Thomas?" inquired the inquisitive wife.

"I'm opening a can of tomatoes."

If you particularly wish to know, I'm impatiently rejoicing.

"And what are you opening it with?"

"Why, with a can opener. Did you think I was using my teeth?" he added, savagely.

"Oh, no, dear," she sweetly replied, "but I do know you are not opening it with a prayer."

Gay Oyster, the brilliant secretary of Samuel Compere, came at a tea at the Ritz.

"The trouble with us plebeians is that we won't admit we are plebeians. We claim we're just as good as any Cornland-floower or Astorbuilt that walks Fifth-ave."

"You know the story about Tommy Jones, Tommy's ma forlode him to play with common boys. Tommy obeyed, but one afternoon he came home in a dreadful state, shiny backed, clothes in ruins, face black, for he'd been hopping coal cars."

"Tommy, Tommy," said his ma, "who persuaded you to hop coal cars?"

"Them two Gallagher brothers, Tommy answered."

"The Gallagher brothers! Oh,

Tommy, how wicked you are!"

"But they aren't common, ma."

"Not common? How do you know?"

"I asked them and they said they wasn't."

"You say this is an educational film?"

"Yes," replied the movie magnate blandly.

"But it features a vampire."

"Exactly," "We're trying to make the world safe for married men."

"You say this is an educational film?"

"Yes," replied the movie magnate blandly.

MRS. THOMAS' WORD TO WOMEN

Tells of the Great Good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Her.

Morrice, Mich.—"About a year after my second baby was born I suffered with dizziness every morning so that I got to handle the ground. I had heard from other women about your medicine and had read letters about it so my husband and I took the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I took according to directions and in a short time I was entirely relieved. I also took the Vegetable Compound before my last baby came and am thankful to say that I relieved my sufferings very much and I shall never be without it at such times. I have told others of its great worth and shall keep on telling it."—Mrs. Ed. Thomas, Box 184, Morrice, Mich.

Women should not continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like free confidential advice address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

FIRST TIME THIS STRANGE CASE IS TOLD THE PUBLIC

Local citizen declares he feels like a different man since he overcame the dizzy spells, weak kidneys, indigestion and gastritis.

New remedy Dreo was prompt in action and pleasant in effect. Recommends it strongly.

There is probably no other medicine of its kind has won the praise that Dreo has during the past few months right here in this section. Men and women who have given themselves up as incurable are coming forward with remarkable signed statements telling what Dreo has accomplished for them after almost everything else had failed.

"Every morning now I wish my alarm clock would postpone ringing a couple of hours," said Mr. S. C. Watt who is employed in the Boiler Shop of the "Solar Refining Co., and lives on E. R. No. 9, Lima, O.

"I enjoy my sleep now whereas before I'd roll and toss all night. Long and be worn out next morning. I was afraid I was about to be laid on the shelf for my work seemed to drag on me. After meals I'd have a full feeling often with nausea and gastritis. I'd frequently get very dizzy and had aching pains in my back directly over my kidneys. I was bilious all the time and had severe headaches. I'd been taking a treatment of Dreo for some time and I strongly recommend it."

The old-fashioned remedies, made from roots and herbs, are the best for any one to take. Dreo is made from twelve different roots, herbs, barks and leaves. These act on the stomach, bowels and kidneys and purify the blood. Dreo knocks rheumatism out shortly; and relieves catarrh of the head and stomach; makes you sleep soundly and creates a good appetite. As a blood purifier nothing can equal Dreo. It puts a stop to boils, eczema and other blood affections.

All good druggists now sell Dreo and it is highly recommended in Lima by Baldwin's Central Drug Store, corner Main and High-sts.
